acceptance of the Participation Contract by the Organizer. Should the Participation Contract not be accepted by the Organizer the amount paid as specified in the 1st Payment Term will be returned to the Exhibitor.

The Organizer is entitled to reject Exhibitors, in its own discretion, in case the Participation Contract is not followed by the payment of the first invoice inside the payment terms. It will not be allowed to initiate the assembly of the stand to those Exhibitors that have outstanding debts with the Organizer.

These are the responsibility of the installer or user of the stand and will require prior authorisation from management.

FYCMA may, at its discretion, limit the supply power when it has the potential to have a negative impact on other users or for reasons of overload and security of its own lines and facilities.

The users of the stands and facilities are required to maintain a power factor between 0.95 and 1. The electricity supply in the Trade Fairs and Congress Centre of Malaga depends on the electric company. FYCMA cannot be held responsible for any external fault or anomaly in this respect.

As a preventive measure, in case of supply failure, the exhibitor is obliged to ensure that their own facilities, products and machines are fitted with the appropriate security systems.

The installation and materials used must comply with ITC-BT-34. Splices are not permitted in the connections between the distribution point and the box. The box must be placed as close as possible to the entry point of the connection and will have at least:

- General magnetothermal switch with omni polar cut off, sized according to the supply line.
- General differential switch with 30 mA sensitivity and gauge no lower than the general magnetothermal switch.
- Omni polar magnetothermal switches of a suitable calibre for the distribution line. The receivers with unit powers greater than 3 Kw must be protected individually from the box. Said frame must be of a sufficient size and technical specifications to guarantee its correct and safe operation. It requires its own support or be fixed to some structural element of the stand and must not be placed at ground level. Splices and connections must be made by means of terminals located inside connection boxes. The flexible connections of the equipment must not exceed two meters in length, ensuring it is suitable for working conditions.
- All wiring susceptible to being subjected to any mechanical stress must be appropriately protected. All overhead lines must have a section of galvanised steel cable to ensure they can sustain the effort required.
- Sockets must be safe and have earth contact. They must be installed at least one meter from any water source.
- Lamps located below 2.5 meters must be protected in such a way that impedes contact with the lamp.
- Metal structures of the stands must have earth contact.

10.8. Documentation for the installation

10.10 Rules for use of the installation

The exhibitor is not permitted to make any modifications to the electrical installation of the stand and is limited to connecting their plugs to the sockets or connection points designated for this purpose by the installer. Adapters with multiple outputs, connected to a socket outlet, are not permitted.

The recharging of batteries or accumulators that can release flammable or toxic gases inside the are not permitted on the premises. Their presence on a stand will require authorisation from management which must be obtained in advance.

The exhibitor, their contractors and/or subcontractors will be held responsible for any damages arising from modifications to and improper use of the electrical installations. 10.11. Environmental and energy regulations.

During events and the assembly and dismantling of stands, good environmental and energy practices in FYCMA must be respected for the promotion of energy consumption and the separation of waste. Most of the waste that is generated must be deposited in the corresponding containers for its subsequent removal and recycling. As follows:

- The materials must be stacked so that they occupy the least amount of space possible to optimise the space in the container.
- Only plastics should be put in the compactor for this purpose. Any other type of material could damage the machine.
- Waste should be placed inside the containers and must not be deposited in the area around them.
- Each type of material should be deposited in its corresponding zone. In the case of hazardous waste, for which there is no container in the loading area, the assemblers should notify maintenance personnel to organize their removal to the hazardous waste warehouse.
- The transport of waste from the dismantling area should be done in a way which avoids loss of materials which become detached and adheres to all health and safety regulations.

Regarding energy savings:

- Make the most of natural light, avoiding over lit areas. Always switch off lights when leaving a room.
- Carry out the maintenance of vehicles, equipment, and tools to perform the tasks in a way which guarantees maximum efficiency (lubrication, temperature adjustments, cleaning and changing filters, mechanical adjustments ...).
- Keep doors to rooms closed to prevent heat escaping.

The pavilions' floor can withstand a load of up to 2,000 kg/sqm. Point loads will be avoided at corners and edges, where loads cannot be distributed. The covers of the service supply gutters may not be used to support punctual loads.

The floor of the rooms can withstand a load of up to 300 kg/sqm. All support legs or struts used in rooms must have a contact section proportional to the load supported, so that no support exceeds this limit. All the legs must have rubber, wood, or similar protections to avoid damage on the floor.
